

House Bill 411

Community Renewable Energy Act:
A Review

What is HB 411

- Passed in 2019, the bill creates a regulatory pathway for participating communities to pursue a goal of 100% net renewable energy by 2030

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step
- Minimal participation cost for SLCO

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step
- Minimal participation cost for SLCO
- Would affect unincorporated county, only

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step
- Minimal participation cost for SLCO
- Would affect unincorporated county, only
- Participation is automatic but customers can opt-out

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step
- Minimal participation cost for SLCO
- Would affect unincorporated county, only
- Participation is automatic but customers can opt-out
- Takes advantage of low-cost renewable pricing

Why is the resolution in the best interest of SLCO residents and businesses?

- It is just the first step
- Minimal participation cost for SLCO
- Would affect unincorporated county, only
- Participation is automatic but customers can opt-out
- Takes advantage of low-cost renewable pricing
- Good for the environment and air quality

Communities

Rocky Mountain Power

Utah Regulatory

100% X 2030
Resolution

100% X 2030
Resolution

Community-
RMP Agreement

100% X 2030
Resolution

Community-
RMP Agreement

Program
Regulatory Filing

100% X 2030
Resolution

Community-
RMP Agreement

Program
Regulatory Filing

Projected
Rates & Terms

100% X 2030
Resolution

Community-
RMP Agreement

Program
Regulatory Filing

Projected
Rates & Terms

Community
Ordinance

100% X 2030
Resolution

Community-
RMP Agreement

Program
Regulatory Filing

Projected
Rates & Terms

Community
Ordinance

Customer Opt-
Out Noticing

Questions