Why do you want to serve on this board?

To learn more about the Children's Justice Centers and to help find ways to expand and improve on existing programs. To collaborate with board members, CJC as well as local organizations working towards child abuse prevention, education and healing. I see this as a great opportunity to network and work together towards the same goals.

As the Director of the Office of Safe Environment at the Catholic Diocese of Salt Lake City, it is important for me to collaborate and partner with local entities that are also working in the field of preventing child abuse as well as educating the public and prioritizing child abuse awareness and providing a safe place and healing for children who are abused.

Director, Family Life Office at the Catholic Diocese of Salt Lake City (2yrs. 2 mos.)

Director, Safe Environment Office at the Catholic Diocese of Salt Lake City (8mos.)

What unique perspectives could you bring to the board?

Because I am fairly new to this office and work, I will bring a fresh, new perspective. As an employee of a religious organization, I will also bring a faith-based perspective which looks at this from a pastoral viewpoint of not only prevention and education, but also of healing and hope.
