To Whom It May Concern,

I am interested in the Central Utah Water Conservancy District board position. I have always been an advocate for recycling and conservation. Our family recently installed our landscape. I attended the Localscape University class at Jordan Valley Water's Conservation Garden Park and had a landscape consultation to learn more about wise residential water use. I enjoyed learning about the five-step approach to create beautiful landscapes that use local plants and conserves water. We installed a smart water controller, have stone in our parkstrip and deep flowerbeds with drip-lines. Our neighbors love our landscaping and were surprised to hear it was water wise. I would like to programs like these and wise water use to all residents. I also enjoy taking my children and scout groups to visit the Conservation Garden Park to see ideal plants for Northern Utah's unique climate.

I attended the Utah Water Conservatives Conference this year. It was very interesting to learn about regional water conservation goals, secondary metering, water use patterns, water banking, demand management and forecasting future water supply. More than 60% of Utah's cullinary drinking water is being used on outdoor landscapes and water shortages are expected. With the large population growth in our area of the valley, water is one of the most important issues. It is critical that we do a better job of educating our residents on water efficiency.

I am a strong beliver in fiscal responsibilty. I have a Masters degree from USU in Business Administration with an emphasis in Financial Planning. I am a numbers person and have experience with large budgets.

Please call me at the number below if you have any questions. Thank you for taking the time to review my resume. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Tawnee McCay
