Dear Salt Lake County Council Chair Stringham,

Arts & Culture is pleased to present a recommendation for the naming of the planned Southwest Valley Arts Center along with a resolution to set a public hearing to receive public comment regarding this naming.

Salt Lake County received a request from the Larry H. & Gail Miller Family Foundation for naming the Arts Center the “Larry H. & Gail Miller Family Arts Center” in exchange for $25 million to support the design and construction of the Arts Center. Planned for Downtown Daybreak in South Jordan, the venue will act as a Regional Arts Center, providing important performance, rehearsal, and exhibit space for local and regional artists and audience members.

Pursuant to the Salt Lake County Criteria and Processes for the Naming of Public Places and Facilities, Code 2.48, Arts & Culture Advisory Board held a public meeting on September 26 to discuss and receive public comment regarding this naming request. At this meeting, the Arts & Culture Advisory Board unanimously voted in support of recommending the naming to the Salt Lake County Mayor and Salt Lake County Council.

Arts & Culture expresses extreme gratitude to the Salt Lake County Council for your consideration of this naming request as well as deep gratitude to the Larry H. & Gail Miller Family Foundation for its proposed contribution and the significant milestone in the planning of this Regional Arts Center it represents.

Sincerely,

Matt Castillo
Division Director
Salt Lake County Arts & Culture
