Chapter 2.56 - Community Councils2.56.010 - Purpose.

The purpose of Salt Lake County recognizing certain community councils in the unincorporated area of the county is to provide a mechanism by which residents living in the unincorporated area of the county who have chosen to associate together in a community council may formulate and present advisory recommendations on certain actions within the authority of the county as specified in this chapter and to outline the requirements a community council must maintain in order to fill that role.

2.56.020 - Definitions.

The following terms used in this chapter as defined as follows:

“Community council”: a private, nonprofit entity that is entitled to tax exempt status under the laws of either the United States or the State of Utah that has been established by private individuals living in the unincorporated county to represent the collective interests of residents living in a particular geographic area of the unincorporated Salt Lake County.

“Unincorporated area” or “Unincorporated county”: the geographical area of Salt Lake County outside of the incorporated area of a municipality.

2.56.030 - Recognition of Community Councils - Requirements.

Salt Lake County will formally recognize community Councils that comply with all the following requirements:

B. The boundaries of the community council’s geographical area are exclusively within unincorporated Salt Lake County and do not overlap with another recognized community council. A community council seeking recognition shall submit to the County a map of its geographic area, which map shall be subject to the review and approval of the County.

C. The community council has adopted bylaws or other governing documents which include the following minimum standards:

a. Requirements that the community council's meetings and elections are held regularly in public places and with adequate notice, and that a recording or written minutes of the meetings are maintained;

b. Requirements that the community council's officers or leaders are selected for fixed terms of service through open and transparent elections that are held at least every four years;

c. Requirements that the community council's voting members and elected offices or leaders reside within the approved geographical area of the community council;

d. Requirements that the community council prepare and approve an annual budget, which budget includes a disbursement of funds report for any funding received from Salt Lake County.

A community council seeking recognition shall submit a copy of its bylaws or other governing documents to the County. Such materials shall be delivered to the County at the time the application for recognition is submitted, and any future amendments to such materials shall be delivered to the County promptly following the adoption of such amendments.

2.56.040 - Recognition of Community Councils - Process.

A. Each recognized community council is encouraged to develop priorities regarding capital improvement projects within the community council's geographical area using the funds provided to Salt Lake County by the Greater Salt Lake Municipal Services District. These recommendations should be communicated in writing to the Mayor and County Council on an annual basis as part of the budget process outlined in 2.56.070. Community councils are encouraged to arrive at such recommendations pursuant to duly held and appropriately publicized public hearings in their respective community council district.
