Honorable Council Chair Max Burdick,

We recommend that you reduce the rollback taxes on TC#7878 from $78,732.94 to $-0- and TC#7879 from $6,864.52 to -0-.

This property was withdrawn from Greenbelt due to an increase is acreage from The State Tax Commission that is part of a sand and gravel operation. The State Tax Commission determined after the rollbacks were billed that the acreage should remain the same and not be increased. This property qualifies and will be reinstated for greenbelt.

If you agree with this recommendation, please notify the Salt Lake County Treasurer's office to abate rollback taxes as indicated.

Respectfully,

Levin Jacobs

To Whom It May Concern:

In regards to Sorensen Sand and Gravel, Utah State Tax Commission – Property Tax Division stands by their original 2019 assessment of Sorensen Sand and Gravel.

In October, it was brought to our attention by Martin Worwood with the Salt Lake County Assessor's office that the Sorensen Sand and Gravel mining area appeared to be bigger than what was being assessed for 2019. A change in mine acres was then made. In November, the taxpayer responded that the mine acres were what was originally assessed at 45 acres and also 2 acres for the adjoining parcels being mined. After a more detailed aerial view, it appears that the taxpayer was being truthful. Therefore, the mine acres were moved back to the original 45 and 2 acres being mined.

The Property Tax Division will stand by their 2019 assessed value for Sorensen Sand and Gravel.

Respectfully TINIS

Projected farming area after gravel pit. Year 2023-2025 Estimated

2:1 slope areas from upper elevation to lower elevations due to change in terrian

Stock pile of soil reserve as of 2019 in order to restore the land after current and future mining.

Illustration explanation

The projected farming area in the illustration above shows current agriculture use and future use after the closing of the gravel pit. The 2:1 slope areas are to be left growing with native grass and sage/brush. The stock pile of soil is estimated to be 40,000-50,000 yards. Combined with soil that will be preserved before future mining to the North there will be sufficient soil to return the entire property for agriculture use.

Other details

Parcel #26-09-100-005 only has a couple acres that is used for gravel pit access and will not change. Parcel #26-09-300-011 is the mining area and the acres used for mining may change from year to year but is kept under the 45 acre limit. As the quarry will be moving to the North the southern areas continuing from the East moving West will be restored for agreculture use.
