Mr. Woodward stated this item was on the Council agenda two weeks ago but a number of edits were suggested by Council Member Jensen. Due to the large number of edits, legal counsel recommended the ordinance be brought back to the Council for a first reading. Changes have been made to the development agreement allowing for more give and take between the developer and the County.

*** *** *** ***

Mr. Curtis Woodward, Planning and Development Services Division, explained the following ordinance to be heard:

Application # 30521 – Salt Lake County to amend Section 19.04.440, 19.66.030, and 19.68.030 of the Uniform Zoning Ordinance of Salt Lake County, Utah, to restrict "public use" to uses and facilities compatible with residential and agricultural areas and to allow utility production, storage, and treatment facilities in the M-1 and M-2 zones.

Mr. Woodward stated the original draft of this ordinance allowed for some large scale uses, such as water and sewer treatment plants that the County did not necessarily want to confine to industrial areas. This draft proposes adding water and sewerage treatment facilities to the agricultural zones. The Salt Lake City Department of Public Utilities indicated their concern about water treatment plants, such as the one it has in Parley's Canyon in a Forestry & Recreation (FR) zone. To address that concern, he proposed a further change to make water treatment, water storage, and watershed management facilities allowable as conditional uses in the FR Zones.

Council Member Wilson asked why water and sewer treatment plants were not conditional uses everywhere.

Mr. Woodward stated allowing conditional use is not the ultimate answer because state law indicates the Council more or less has to approve them. If the treatment plants had to be rezoned, the Council would have greater input. The proposal also calls for such facilities to be added to A-5, A-10, and A-20 zones.

Council Member Jensen stated he is comfortable with the proposal because it gives the Council a say in where these facilities are located.

Council Member Jensen, seconded by Council Member Newton, moved to open the public hearing. The motion passed unanimously, showing that all Council Members present voted "Aye."

Mr. Steve Van Maren stated he did not have a problem with the proposal on the table. However, in the long term, he suggested any rezoning that does not get developed within a certain time frame, such as two years, should revert back to its original zone.
